

ABC Legal Jobs

<http://www.abclegaljobs.co.uk>

Job search engine for the legal profession includes appointments sourced from job vacancy sites, employers and recruiters.

Badenoch and Clark Legal Salary Survey

<http://www.badenochandclark.com/for-employers/salary-guide/legal>

Recruitment company salary survey covering in house and private practice salaries.

Bar Council

<http://www.barcouncil.org.uk>

The professional and representative body for barristers in England and Wales. Provides detailed information about training to become a barrister.

Bar Standards Board

<http://www.barstandardsboard.org.uk>

The independent regulatory board of the Bar Council, responsible for regulating barristers in England and Wales. Provides an online directory of barristers, searchable by name.

Barrister Magazine

<http://www.barristermagazine.com>

News magazine for barristers. The website includes news, features and archive content. There are very good links to UK and international legal journals.

Chambers and Partners Directory

<http://www.chambersandpartners.com>

Chambers is a major publisher of researched legal directories for the UK and internationally. The UK directory can be searched on the site, and ranks solicitors and barristers in over 70 legal specialisms. You can search by name of firm or practice area and this takes you to a ranked list and detailed editorial comment. You can also click through to general profiles of the firm or set including contact details and full rankings.

Chambers' Student Guide

<http://www.chambersstudent.co.uk>

Detailed website providing information on all aspects of starting a career in law and as a barrister. There are detailed profiles of law firms and what they are like to work for, descriptions of the different types of law firm and sector specialisms and a law school search. The site has search facilities to find a training contract or a pupillage.

Chambers Student Legal Salary Survey

<http://www.chambersstudent.co.uk/pdf/Salaries%20and%20Bens.pdf>

Salary survey for student training year salaries and benefits covering the top law firms.

Faculty of Advocates

<http://www.advocates.org.uk>

Professional body of lawyers practising as Advocates at the Scottish Bar. The website provides information about becoming an advocate and details of events and training. There is also a directory of advocates which can be searched by name, stable or area of specialism.

Hays Legal Salary Guides

<http://www.hays.co.uk/legal/legal-salaries.aspx?Ranked=true&RankedId=1099>

Recruitment agency providing a wide range of national, regional and sector specific salary guides.

Institute of Barristers' Clerks

<http://www.barristersclerks.com>

Professional body for barristers' clerks in the UK. The website has a small section of job vacancies plus information about careers, education, training and legal news.

Institute of Legal Executives

<http://www.ilex.org.uk>

Professional body for trainee and qualified legal executives. The website provides information about qualifications, study options and career paths.

Law Gazette

<http://www.lawgazette.co.uk>

Online presence of the Law Society's weekly gazette. There are sections for general legal news and updates, in business, in practice, blogs, editorial and more detailed feature articles.

Law Gazette Jobs

<http://www.lawgazettejobs.co.uk>

Job vacancy site for the legal profession, covering appointments for private practice, in-house, legal HR, legal IT and legal secretaries. Alerts by email and RSS.

LawCareers.net

<http://www.lawcareers.net>

Website published by the Law Society and the Bar Council to provide information and guidance on becoming a lawyer or barrister. Includes vacancies for training roles and pupillages plus paralegal and support positions.

LawScotJobs

<http://www.lawscotjobs.co.uk>

Legal job vacancy website of the Law Society of Scotland's Journal publication. Search by job type, PQE and legal specialism. Alerts by email.

Lawyers in Private Practice

<http://lawyersinprivatepractice.com>

Job vacancy site featuring only direct job advertisements from law firms. All levels of appointments are covered. Alerts by email.

Legal 500

<http://www.legal500.com>

International series of surveys on the legal profession. The UK version includes directories of the top legal firms in the country, a Bar directory and a list of in-house legal professionals. The firms directory can be searched by region and by specialism or alphabetically. There are detailed profiles of each firm and their partners. Contact details are included. The Bar directory is searchable by London, regional circuits and Scotland. There is also a section on offshore legal firms (Guernsey, Jersey and the Isle of Man).

Legal Executive Recruitment

<http://www.legal-executive-recruitment.com>

Job vacancy site of the Legal Executive Journal. Search by sector, practice area, job type and geographic area. Alerts by email.

Legal Prospects

<http://www.legalprospects.com>

Job vacancy site for legal roles and supporting roles in law firms. Search by keyword, location, practice area, employer type and experience level or browse sectors for support roles. Alerts by email.

Legal Week

<http://www.legalweek.com>

Website of the Legal Week magazine for UK legal professionals. The site has a useful section where you can search for news by firm and a LegalWeekWiki.

Legal Week Jobs

<http://www.legalweekjobs.com>

Job vacancy website for the legal profession. Alerts by email and RSS.

Michael Page Legal Salary Survey

<http://www.michaelpage.co.uk/content/17199/legal-salary-survey.html>

Legal salary survey from recruiter Michael Page, covering private practice, in-house, temporary work and sector specialisms.

Pupillage Portal

<https://www.pupillages.com>

Vacancy site run by the Bar Council for pupillage vacancies. Pupillages can be searched by provider, location, term, type and many detailed criteria. This scheme runs on an annual basis - check the site for details of the current timetable.

Scottish Law Online

<http://www.scottishlaw.org.uk/>

Online portal covering topics of interest to the Scottish legal community. The site includes links to courts, legislation, organisations, governments, professional bodies, societies, universities, journals and an A-Z of Scottish legal topics.

Simply Law Jobs

<http://www.simplylawjobs.com>

Job vacancy website covering roles at all levels in the legal profession including lawyer, legal secretary, paralegal and law student appointments. Search by professional level, sector, location and keyword. Alerts by email.

Taylor Root Salary Surveys

<http://www.taylorroot.com/publications>

Legal recruitment company providing a range of different salary surveys for the legal profession in the UK and overseas

The Law Society of England and Wales

<http://www.lawsociety.org.uk>

The representative professional body for solicitors in England and Wales. The website contains information about legal training and professional development, events, legal specialisms and publications. There is also a directory to find a local solicitor or firm by specialism or geographical area.

The Law Society of Northern Ireland

<http://www.lawsoc-ni.org>

The governing and professional body for solicitors in Northern Ireland. The website includes information on training, events and publications and also has a small jobs section.

The Law Society of Scotland

<http://www.lawscot.org.uk>

The governing and representative professional body for solicitors in Scotland. The website provides information about becoming a solicitor and opportunities for professional training and development. There is a find a solicitor directory, searchable by specialism and postcode proximity.

The Lawyer

<http://www.thelawyer.com>

Online presence of The Lawyer weekly magazine. The website has detailed news sections, arranged by practice areas, region, in-house, public sector, practice management and education and training.

The Lawyer Jobs

<http://jobs.thelawyer.com>

Job vacancy site of the Lawyer magazine containing appointments for all types of legal role. Alerts by email and RSS.

The Times Jobs

<http://jobs.timesonline.co.uk>

Job vacancy site covering all sectors but particularly strong for public sector, administration, education, legal, sales and marketing, engineering, construction and manufacturing and senior-level roles. Search by keyword, industry (eg consultancy, education, energy), location (region and county) and salary band. Each industry also has detailed sub categories. Alerts by email and RSS.

Totally Legal

<http://www.totallylegal.com>

Legal job vacancy site for lawyer appointments in private practice or in-house plus legal executive, paralegal and legal secretary roles. Also includes HR, finance, IT and marketing within law firms. Search by sector and then by contextual further options. Alerts by email.